Ribbon Cuttings

The Chamber's oversized scissors got a workout in August, assisting with the unveiling of two new historic assets in Wallace. Top, Marilyn White from the Frank A. Morbeck Community Foundation cuts the ribbon to reveal the informational panels at the base of the historic stairs at Fifth and Bank.

At left, Samantha Mills poses for photos in front of the mural she painted. Unveiled at a ribbon-cutting ceremony on August 28, the mural is mounted on the west side of True Value Hardware, in the park adjoining the Courthouse. Several businesses and organizations contributed to the mural project.

Summer meetings include variety of speakers

A big "Thank You" to our recent speakers at our summer meetings.

On June 18, Keri Alexander, manager of the Shoshone News Press, explained the ins and outs of the newspaper business.

Our July 3 breakfast featured a sneak preview by the Sixth Street Melodrama cast of their upcoming production.

On August 6, Jim Hammond, new executive director of Panhandle Area Council, explained programs and opportunities for businesses to get assistance through PAC. On August 20, Emily Hollis of the Idaho Department of Labor in Kellogg spoke about the youth employment and other programs that can help Valley businesses. If you have an idea for a future speaker, please call Diane at the Chamber office.

Thousands of visitors and locals hunted for bargains at the annual Under the Freeway Flea Market. Kudos to Shauna Hillman and crew on this successful end-of-summer event.

BUSINESS & COMMUNITY NEWS

Free music concert

The Shoshone County Community Concert Association, in conjunction with the Northern Pacific Depot Museum, will present local musicians in a two-hour concert Sunday, September 7, at 2 p.m. on the Depot lawn. Bring lawn chairs or blankets and enjoy country, folk, cowboy and comedy.

Bike for a cause

Bike MS 2014 is scheduled September 13-14 on The Trail of the Coeur d'Alenes. The ride begins in Kellogg at the Silver Mountain Trailhead and continues along the Trail. Cyclists may choose a route length between 20 and 100 miles, going as far as Plummer and all returning to Silver Mountain. More information: 509 742-5174.

Elks Roundup

The 118th annual Wallace Elks 331 Roundup will be September 9-14. The event includes a Game Night on Tuesday, Elks Queen Contest on Wednesday, New Member Initiation on Thursday, a steak dinner on Friday, and Roundup Breakfast and Parade on Saturday. More information: 651-8391.

SCCCA kicks off 2014-15 Season

Memberships are now on sale for the upcoming season of the Shoshone County Community Concert Association. The October 5 concert will feature the popular Redhead Express, four sisters who sing and play a variety of musical instruments. The second concert will be A Taste of Jazz on October 26, followed by electric violinist Geoffrey Castle on November 9. The fourth concert will be on April 12, 2015, and feature the music of Argentine by Tango Volcado, a Spokane-area quartet that includes piano, violin, accordion and bass. A fifth concert, featuring classical music artists from the Piatigorsky Foundation, will be announced in the spring. Information: 208 682-9030.

Milestones

Congratulations to Rayma Shields on her 25th work anniversary at Idaho Silver and to Good Samaritan Silverwood on its 40th anniversary. Mitzi was recognized for her 35 years at Good Sam. She, Art and other Good Sam staff did a great job of organizing the program and barbecue to commemorate the 40th anniversary.
